Via: e-mail

Dear Mr. Fisher, Ms. Bishop-Parise and others represented in your letter:

This is in response to the undated correspondence from NALA and others regarding the Division’s technical bulletin dated 9/1/2018 and titled, Admission of Alzheimer’s Patients to Residential Facilities for Groups. Thank you for consolidating issues from several groups into a single document and for providing the Bureau of Health Care Quality and Compliance (HCQC) with the same. The Division of Public and Behavioral Health, HCQC determined it was necessary to issue technical guidance to both facilities and inspection staff regarding residents experiencing cognitive/dementia issues, or those with similar diagnoses. The intent of the technical guidance is to ensure the safety of residents through consistent enforcement of existing regulations.

HCQC has been attempting to find a solution to the unsafe conditions associated with residents who have been diagnosed with Alzheimer’s or related dementia that are residing in residential facilities for groups that don’t have an Alzheimer’s endorsement. HCQC has also worked to ensure consistency in enforcement of associated regulations. HCQC consulted with the Attorney General’s (AG) office to determine whether a diagnosis alone was sufficient evidence that an individual had Alzheimer’s or a related disease to establish whether a facility providing care to such an individual should be in compliance with regulations that require an Alzheimer's endorsement. HCQC received confirmation from the AG, that a diagnosis is sufficient. HCQC then generated a technical bulletin to help explain the regulations. Around the same time, guidance was provided to inspectors to make citations regarding residents with these diagnoses who were residing in unendorsed facilities. HCQC acknowledges that strict enforcement may cause residents with a diagnosis (even when those residents are not yet exhibiting unsafe behaviors) to be displaced. In order to mitigate the problems strict enforcement may cause, HCQC offers three options for facility operators as follows: 1) the facility may apply for an Alzheimer’s endorsement and until June 30, 2019 HCQC will waive the $250 application fee for this endorsement, 2) the facility may transfer the resident to an appropriately endorsed facility or 3) the facility may obtain a physician placement determination from the resident’s physician, that indicates placement in a non-Alzheimer’s endorsed facility is an appropriate setting. A copy of standard forms that have been in use for this purpose are attached to this correspondence.
These forms have been used during the past two decades to allow facility staff, inspectors and physicians to complete assessments and make determinations. HCQC is open to any recommendations to modify these forms in order to make them more useful for facilities, physicians and residents. In addition, to further mitigate the adverse affects of strict enforcement, HCQC will offer facilities identified as violating the regulatory requirements (due to a resident only being identified as having a diagnosis) time to have the resident assessed for changes in condition and appropriate facility type determinations, without punishing the facility in regards to these violations. The best way to ensure consistency in enforcement and to ensure the safety of the residents, is for inspectors to make the appropriate citations. However, so that facilities are not punished for these citations, HCQC will not assign severity/scope scores, where no harm has occurred and the only reason for the violation is due to a diagnosis; rather HCQC will require facilities to provide an acceptable plan of correction (including assessment and placement determination by a physician). This will result in no sanctions regarding these citations and these citations will not affect the facility’s grade. However, in those situations where harm has occurred or unsafe behaviors have been identified, severity/scope scores will be assigned and where appropriate sanctions will be applied.

HCQC may consider a change to the annual assessment regulations in the future, so that at least annually the placement determination is made for residents with a related diagnosis, but until such time as new regulations are adopted, HCQC will dutifully enforce the regulations that are in effect. Finally, for those facilities that received associated citations after the issue date of the technical bulletin (based on diagnosis only) and severity/scope scores were identified, HCQC will modify the citations to not include the severity/scope scores and reissue the statements of deficiencies.

If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact me at (702) 486-6515.

Sincerely,

Paul Shubert, Chief
Bureau of Health Care Quality and Compliance

If the total score is less than 4 and the facility is licensed to care for Category 2 residents, the resident requires further assessment for appropriate facility placement by a physician.
If the total score is less than 4 and the facility is licensed to care for Category 1 residents, conduct the evacuation test below; 1) if the resident passes the test, the resident is to be further assessed for appropriate facility placement by a physician 2) if the resident fails the test, the facility must develop a plan for protecting the resident until he/she can be transferred to an appropriate facility.
If the total score is 5 or more, no additional assessment is necessary at this time.

Technical Bulletin

Topic: Admission of Alzheimer’s Patients to Residential Facilities for Groups
Contact: Paul Shubert, Chief of the Bureau of Health Care Quality and Compliance pshubert@health.nv.gov or (702) 486-6515
Date: Sept. 1, 2018
To: Residential Facilities for Groups/Assisted Living Facilities

The purpose of this technical bulletin is to inform Nevada licensed residential facilities for groups (RFG) including assisted living facilities about state regulations regarding admission of residents with Alzheimer’s disease or related dementia. Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) 449.2754 indicates that any licensed RFG offering or providing care for a resident with Alzheimer’s disease or related dementia must obtain an endorsement from the Division of Public and Behavioral Health (DPBH) authorizing it to provide care to persons with Alzheimer’s disease. NAC 449.173 defines “Residential facility which provides care to persons with Alzheimer’s disease” as a residential facility that provides care and protective supervision for persons with Alzheimer’s disease or a related disease, including, without limitation, senile dementia, organic brain syndrome or other cognitive impairment.

Recently, inspection staff identified several situations where RFGs have admitted or retained residents with a diagnosis of Alzheimer’s or related disease, in a facility without the proper endorsement. Such admissions put these residents in jeopardy of residing in an unsafe environment based on their disease. In addition, facilities with an endorsement for providing care to persons with Alzheimer’s disease must ensure staff have necessary experience and are properly qualified to provide care to such residents (NAC 449.2754 and 449.2768). This provides assurance that these residents receive appropriate care and activities, whereas facilities without such endorsement are not required to meet these standards.

When inspection staff identify a resident with a diagnosis of Alzheimer’s or related disease in a facility without an endorsement, the facility will be cited for the regulatory violation. Whereas in a facility without an endorsement, if inspection staff identify a resident with behaviors typical of Alzheimer’s or related disease, but there’s not yet a diagnosis, the facility will be required to have the resident assessed in accordance with NAC 449.2738. The Division of Public and Behavioral Health has an appreciation for the facilities providing direct care and services at all levels and the Division is committed to ensuring the safety of these very vulnerable individuals.
