<https://dphh.nv.gov/uploadedFiles/dphhnavgov/content/Boards/CBH/Meetings/2024/NRS%20433.710%20Report.pdf>

Chair Braden Schrag asked Shannon Bennett how the 70% call answer rate compares nationally.

Shannon Bennett replied to Chair Schrag explaining that Nevada is on the lower end for call answer rates but that she anticipates the request for proposals will be published and they will start to accept bids. This will help to establish call centers and the appropriate technology to eventually have higher in state call answer rates.

Chair Braden Schrag responded to Shannon Bennett asking how the transfer relationship between the 911 number and the 988 number, he said he understood that there were issues with the integration.

Shannon Bennett thanked Chair Schrag and explained when the request for proposal is published the current system, that has gaps between the transfers, will be fixed. She explained that something her program has been working hard to do is create good relationships with the 911 centers in the State of Nevada. She anticipates that she will have more answers for his concerns and questions by summer 2024.

10. Informational Item: Update on Behavioral Health Programs from Aging and Disability Services Division – Jessica Adams, Deputy Administrator, ADSD

Jessica Adams, Deputy Administrator for Aging and Disability Services Division gave an update explaining that the vacancy rate at their agency has been lower in comparison to other years. She says that she is working with her budget to see how she can turn unpaid internships into paid externships, to create solid relationships with those individuals in hopes they may come back for a vacant position in the years after they leave the externship.

Jessica says that something her program has been anticipating is their rate changes that will be happening April 1, 2024. She says that this will hopefully create more flexibility for both the staff and the patients.

No questions were heard.

11. Informational Item: Update on Seclusion and Restraint/Denial of Rights, ADSD – Marina Valerio, Agency Manager, Desert Regional Center, ADSD

Marina Valerio, Agency Manager of Desert Regional Center gives her report that only one restraint has been issued since her last report given at the previous Commission meeting.

Chair Braden Schrag asked her why she thinks the number of restraints has become lower, Marina responded to him and explained that the staff have been quicker to use the blocking pads for patients versus using restraints right away.

No questions were heard.

12. Information Item: Update on Seclusion and Restraint/Denial of Rights, DPBH – Susan Lynch, Hospital Administrator, SNAMHS, DPBH

Susan Lynch, Hospital Administrator at Southern Nevada Adult Mental Health Services expresses that she is pleased to share with the Commission that the use of restraints has decreased since October 2023 for Southern Nevada Adult Mental Health Services (SNAMHS) and Northern Nevada Adult Mental Health Services (NNAMHS). Susan explains that NNAMHS had a small spike in October, along with SNAMHS who had a spike in September of their use of restraints. NNAMHS has now gone back to their previous number of zero, and SNAMHS has gotten their number down as well.

Susan also explained that the length of stay has decreased in the recent fiscal years, and that the forensic waitlist has grown, along with the statewide long term inside commitments. She says that this has spiked a conversation for how to increase bed capacity.

No questions were heard.

13. Informational Item: Fund for Resilient Nevada discussion – Dawn Yohey, Clinical Program Planner, DHHS
