Official Report of State of Nevada Division of Public and Behavior Health and University of Nevada, Reno. Nevada Pregnancy Risk Assessment Monitoring System (PRAMS): Birth Year 2017-2019. November 2020.

Note: 2017 Nevada PRAMS data had a response rate of 41% and 2018 data had a response rate of 39%, which is under the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) required response rate threshold of 55% to publish data. Interpret data with caution due to the response rate. 2019 data presented in this report was based on partially completed months (five months) therefore response rate for 2019 is unavailable.

Funding Source

This surveillance project is largely supported by a grant from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U01DP006241-04) with support from the Maternal Child Health Block Grant (B04MC31501) and State of Nevada General Fund. This report was supported by Sexual Risk Avoidance Education (1901NVSRAE) and Nevada Pregnancy Risk Education Program (1801NVPREP) grants. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the Division nor CDC.

INTRODUCTION

PRAMS (Pregnancy Risk Assessment Monitoring System) is a joint research project between the Nevada Division of Public and Behavioral Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The purpose is to find out why some babies are born healthy and others are not. To do this, the PRAMS questionnaire asks new mothers about their behaviors and experiences before, during, and after their pregnancy. Each year in Nevada there are hundreds of babies born with serious health problems. Answers to the PRAMS survey will help us to learn more about ways to improve the health of mothers and babies in Nevada.

The overall goal of PRAMS is to reduce infant morbidity and mortality and to promote maternal health by influencing maternal and child health programs, policies, and maternal behaviors during pregnancy and early infancy.

The four main objectives of PRAMS are:

- Collect population-based data of high scientific quality on topics relating to pregnancy and early infancy
- Conduct data analyses in order to increase understanding of maternal behaviors and experiences during pregnancy and early infancy, and their relation to health outcomes
- Translate results from analyses into usable information for planning and evaluation of public health programs and policy.
- Build state capacity for collecting, analyzing, and translating data to address relevant maternal and infant health issues.

Data and Collection and Reporting

---

Each month, new mothers are randomly selected from the state's electronic birth records to participate in the Nevada PRAMS Survey. The survey has core questions, which are standard across the nation, and Nevada-specific questions.

The topics covered by the core questions include:

- Maternal and infant characteristics
- Emotional and physical abuse
- Breastfeeding
- Contraception use
- Tobacco, drug and alcohol use
- Maternal morbidity
- Health insurance
- Income
- Infant mortality
- Length of stay in hospital

- Mental health
- Nutrition
- Prenatal care
- Oral health
- Pregnancy intention
- Infant sleeping environment
- Nevada-specific questions, including:
  - Physical activity
  - Services received (Women, Infants and Children, counseling, etc.
  - Adverse childhood experience
  - Health insurance
  - Prenatal care
  - Oral health
  - Tobacco and substance use
  - Breastfeeding

Data Collection Method

PRAMS combines two modes of data collection; a survey conducted by mailed questionnaire and a survey by telephone with multiple follow-up attempts. The principles and practices of mail/telephone survey methodology used by CDC are based primarily on the research of Don Dillman. A key aspect of his approach is to make numerous and varied contacts with sampled mothers. Here is the sequence of contacts for PRAMS surveillance: Pre-letter, Initial Mail Questionnaire Packet, Tickler, Second Mail Questionnaire Packet, Third Mail Questionnaire Packet and Telephone Follow-up. Telephone follow-up is initiated for all mail non-respondents 7 to 14 days after mailing the last questionnaire.

Data Weighting Process

Nevada PRAMS draws a stratified systematic sample among new mothers every month from a frame of eligible birth certificates. Multiplying together the sampling, nonresponse, and noncoverage components of the weight yields the analysis weight. The weight can be interpreted as the number of women like herself in the population that each respondent represents. All prevalence reported in this report are presented as a weighted percentage.

Data Reporting

The data of this report are based on Nevada PRAMS birth year of 2017-2019. Seven months of birth data was included for 2017 due to PRAMS project started in the mid of 2017. All twelve months were included for year 2018 while five months were included for year 2019 due to only partial data were available when compiling this report. 2017 Nevada PRAMS data had a response rate of 41% and 2018 data had a response rate of 39%, which is under the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) required response rate threshold of 55% to publish data. Interpret data with caution due to the response rate.

All prevalence reported in this report are presented as weighted percentage. Each indicator was presented as a table breakdown by demographics and birth year. Due to limited sample size in this report, all demographics and characteristics were grouped no more than three groups, for example, education level has been grouped as “Less than High School”, “High School/Some College” and “College Degree or higher”; race/ethnicity has been grouped as “White, Non-Hispanic”, “Hispanic” and “Others, Non-Hispanic”. The group of “Others, Non-Hispanic” consists of 15.7% of total mothers, therefore no further breakdown within this group were presented in this report.
